Subject: 4 MB NavDatabase is now available from Jeppesen

Effective June 4, 2009, the new 4 MB database, developed for FreeFlight's Approach & Approach Plus models of GPS Navigation Management Systems (NMS), is now available for download and use.

The increase of available memory, from 2 to 4 megabytes, was necessary to support the normal growth of the Jeppesen NavDatabase and is anticipated to suffice over the next several years. In addition, all data previously removed, due to memory restrictions, has now been returned to the data-card.

We realize that despite FreeFlight's and Jeppesen's best efforts to notify all of our customers, many will not be aware of this mandatory change until they are unable to download their new cycle of NavData. Therefore, FreeFlight will continue to upgrade units at the introductory price of $475 for all units received through the end of June, at which time, we will revert to the standard price of $950 each.

Additional blank 4MB data cards, p/n 83124, are available from FreeFlight, for $400 each. These blank cards are compatible with all FreeFlight/Trimble Approach systems, which have received the 4MB update.

Thank you for your patience and continued support.

Please contact FreeFlight Support if additional information is required.
